Your Petitioner therefore prays your hono= rable body to pass an act divorcing her from the said Vivirette, not with the view of enabling her to marry another against the will of her parents (for this she pledges herself not to do) - but to relieve her from the power of a man whom she can ~~[illegible]~~ neither love or respect, and to quiet the self-reproaches of her unhappy parents - She makes ~~[illegible]~~ this appeal to you as the only power who can relieve her from her present unfortunate condition - and may He, who watches over and governs us all, so temper and soften your judg= =ments as to incline your hearts to mercy, and amply reward you for any indulgence you may bestow upon an innocent but unhappy female - and she as in duty bound will ever pray He -
