And tryd to reason the case with her mother saying he would marry ~~[illegible]~~ her daughter at the risk of his life this was on Sunday evening On Tuesday evening following Price took her from her Mother, B. Kittrell whonow appears has put ~~him~~ himself I family in front of the battle; against Susan hearing Price, had stolen Susan Webb went to her Mother and asked her if Washington Price, had married her daughter she reply'd she did not know Mr Kittrell then reply'd Susan, had the worst end of staff, for Price was an Idiot, I further said he heard upwards of thirty Students, Say they did not think Susan Webb would be such a fool as to marry Washington Price, fool is a very abrupt Expression, tho, I relate it as Mr Kittrell, express it, but as the different sex very often envy each other Susan Price, is one of those unhappy Girls which has to bear these reproaches, which are groundless, I Originated from Malice I envy, a sure enemy is a dangerous monster who can defa=me the Character of the most virtuous Girl upon earth, I therefore hope Gentlemen of the legislature you will maturely consider it and let not malicious
