Jane has on divers occasions left the house of her said husband, and for weeks, and Months at a time, have been absent from home (as this deponent believes) without the will or consent of her said husband. —

This deponent has always understood that the said Jonathan was kind & affectionate to his former wife and believes that he is disposed to be so to the said Ann Jane — and but for her own conduct: they might live happy together. & further this deponent saith not —
